Our friend sleep with the dead; and though we cannot speak of her without suffice yes and an overflowing heart, yet her many excellences of character and the pure hearity of her brief tife, impose the said duty of commemorating however imperfectly, the loss of one exteemed and beloved by all whose privilege it was to enjoy her friendship or affection, and whose privilege it was to enjoy her friendship or affection, and whose privilege it was to enjoy her friendship or affection, and whose privilege it was to enjoy her friendship or affection, and the lovely, the idois of our hearts and of our homes, has added another to the millions who have fallen beneath its remoracless power. Though nurtured and guarded with the untring aschediums of patiently-endured suffering has resigned its pure soul to its sister angels in the spirit world; and the form that but vesterday was lovely and fair, the eye that beamed with affection and intelligence, the tongue that spake only words of kindness and love to weeping friends, now repose motionless and cold among the sacred and beautiful shades of Greenwood. Always selfish, we cannot but mourn, sithough so well we know our less is her gain. For who shall doubt that one whose whole life was so pure, and whose entire character was so lovely, has found perfect happiness and her numerous friends, who feel that they have sustained a lose not easily made op in this world of cold charities and heartises. For in her friendship she was most carnest, truthful, faithful and confiding. We know our pen is feeble to portray the beanies of her mind and character, and yet we feel most deeply the void she has left, and we know as cannot speak of her home virtues, her deep religious feeling, her conscientiousness, her sirrues, her deep religions feeling, her conscientiousness, her unwavering faith and trust in all that was pure and good, and do her justice or satisfy our own wish of offering this pour triente to the memory of one we leved so much or so deeply.

Fully realized is the truth so beautifully appressed by the poet:

"There is weeping on earth for the lost!"

There was rather an active market this morning in Stocks, with considerable excitement in some of the Western shares. The fluctuations in Southern Michi-COURT CALENDAR—THIS DAY.

R COURT.—Nos. 549, 249, 255, 41, 557, 636. gan and Cleveland and Toledo were marked. Southern Michigan opened at 70, sold as high as 701, but afterward fell off to 68]. The transactions reached 5,000 shares. The perturbations in this Stock will continue until after the 20th, when the privilege of guaranteed stock ceases. In Toledo the movement continues to be active; the transactions being some 10,000 shares, with large differences between "regular" and time sales. The movement appears to be a "regular" and seller's option, seven days, was 1 cent. The operators for a rise in this stock have apparently, for the present, the control of the market. Reading was active at the Second Board, closing at 794. A sale of 1,000 shares was made at that, seller three. New-York Central was better, selling at 86%. For Illinois Central there was a fair demand, principally from the shorts, and the market closed at 139. The steamer of Wednesday takes out 3,750 shares bought for account for a Scotch capitalist who is already a large holder of this stock. The Western shares generally were firm. Ohio Life and Trust sold at 991. In Railroad Bonds there was no marked feature. Illinois Central sold to the extent of $35,000 at 100. Eries 1875 at 88; Goshen at 77. &c. In State Stocks the business was $65,000 at about previous prices. There were also private purchasers of some $60,000 New-York 5s for a Savings Bank. The general market was firm at the close.

There is a fair demand for Exchange, and the market is steady at 9291 ₽ cent, with little or no business doing above 91 292 P cent. France are 5.221 2 5.17]. The supply of bills is good.

Rates of Freight to Liverpool are firmer. The engagements are 1,000 bbls. Flour at 74d.; 3,000 bush. Grain at 21d.; 8,000 bbls. Rosin at 3 #6d.; 440 bales Cotton at 2s.; 700 bbls. Tar at 1s. To Havre, Ashes at $8 a $10, and Rum at 3c. A ship with Deals from St. Stevens to Liverpool at 57s. 6d. The bark J. B. Johnson, with Lumber to Buenos Avres, at $13 50.

The business of the Sub-Treasury was: Receipts. $115.657 80: Payments, $135.160 30: Balance, $13. 759,142 55.

We hear of $800,000 in gold engaged to go to Boston to-morrow for the Wednesday steamer, which amount may be increased to $1,000,000.

The official statement of the condition of the Banks, which we annex, exhibits a favorable result as compared with last week. The specie reserve, notwithstanding the large drain for Europe and Havana, shows an increase, as was anticipated from the extent of the California delivery and the depletion of the Sub-Treasury. This result, however, has been materially assisted by the receipts from the interior. which reached not far from a million. One house alone has received about four hundred thousand dol lars. The line of loans is contracted about $450,000. which reduction is probably involuntary—the demand for loans not having been equal to the ability of these institutions to accommodate applicants. The deposits show nominally but little change; but the transactions of the Clearing-House being smaller, the undrawn deposits are $68,595 000, against $67,954,000, showing an increase of $641,000. The comparison with last week is as follows:

Decrease.. $448,280 $247,465 $144,614 $ 432,343

The movement of the Banks since Nov. 1, 1855, has

Sec. 4. Section 23 of said article is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 23. In case of the insolvency or bankruptcy of the partnership, no special partner shall, except for claims confracted pursuant to section seventeen, under any circumstances, be allowed to claim as a creditor, until the claims of all the other creditors of the partnership shall be satisfied.

Sec. 5. This act shall take effect immediately, and shall apply as well to such partnerships existing at the time of the passage hereof, as to those thereafter formed.

State of New York, I have compared the preceding with the Secretary's Office. I original law on file in this office, and do certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole of said original.

J. T. HEADLEY, Secretary of State.

At Cincinnati there is no marked change in the money market. At New Orleans money is in better supply, with a fair supply of paper. Exchange was steady. At Philadelphia there is a little more activity. but the supply of money is sufficient. At Boston, in the street, discount rates are 71 @81 P cent, with a good supply of money.

It is proposed to consolidate the Indianapolis and Madison with the Indianapolis and Jeffersonville (opposite Louisville) Roads, so far as their interests in onflicting branch roads are concerned.

The Empire City to-day took $275,000 in Spanish coin for Havana.

We understand that the late heavy freshets have damaged to some extent the Delaware and Hudson Company's Canal, which will delay the shipments of that Company and the Pennsylvania Coal Company. But little coal will reach tide from that quarter before the 1st of June. The Governor of Pennsylvania has signed the bill for the sale of the Main Line of the Public Works, and it is now a law. This is the third time that a bill has passed authorizing the sale of this great work, but on no previous occasions were the terms satisfactory to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the only party likely to purchase.

The Pottsville Miners' Journal of the 16th says:

"But few contracts for coal are making in this region, longer than for the month of May. Any extending beyond that period will require the prices to be read-justed on the first of each month." The cash assets and liabilities of the New-Orleans Banks on the 9th inst., were as follows:

Dec. 222 000 De 25,000 Ind,000 De 197,000 De 100,000 Meccipts - 2,789,000 bales of the old crop (in round numbers, 2,800.0 o) have now reached the ports, and we know of 40,000 bales held in a few of the interior towns, viz: Augusta, Hamburg, Macon, Memphis, Columbia. From the rest no returns are published; 186,000 bales more would run the crop up to 5,000,000 bales, and it does not yet seem quite impossible for that amount to be received. The past week's deliveries have been 22,000 bales, which is but little decline on the faures of three weeks 250.

Exports—The week's exports amount to 36,000 bales, of which nearly the whole, say 33,800, are to Great Britain. The total decrease in the fareign exports now amounts to 547,000 hales, of which 367,000 fall upon Great Britain and 150,000 upon the Coxtineut. And as the crop is just expected to prove shout the same amount, say 547,000 bales, short of that of last year, and as American spinners are not likely in the whole Cotton year to take more them last year, it follows that as much Cotton now remains available for export as at this time last year. This is a very hopeful prospect for the European consumers, for if they have been able to keep their mills working and prices in some sort of check in Liverpool during the period when they had to contend against a decrease of 547,000 bales in the supplies from this side, it follows that with supplies for the remainder of the season equal to those of last year, cotemporaneously with a greatly reduced consumption and much better prospects for next crop, they should be able to restore prices to a nearce approximation with those of last year.

New Crop.—The growing crop continues to absorb much of the attention of those interested in Cotton. Our reports still lead us to believe that, with the very favorable weather we have had for the past three weeks, the new crop is thriving; and, from the unpreced

Marié Kanz's Circular of May 18 says:

The depreased state of feeling which for several weeks past has rendered the financial community unwilling either to make permanent investments or speculative purchases, still continues to the felt. This want of confidence proceeds in the first place from the state of menetary affairs in Europe, which always exercises over our market a moral influence which usually we are rather disposed to exagerate, especially when it admits of an unfavorable construction. It proceeds in the next place from a fear of an extraordinary outflow of specie to Europe during the remainder of the year to pay off our bainnee of trade; but in reasoning thus, people seem to overlook the fact, that if the imports at New York since the 1st July last show an excess of $20,000,000 over the previous year, the exports of our produce from the other seaports have likewise grown in the same proportion; but as the latter figures cannot be accertained until later, while the commerce of New York is published once a week, a large number of people are disposed to see an increase only on the side of the imports. Fears are also entertained that the duties on the large amount of merchandise warehoused to await the benefit of the new tariff, may draw out so much specie from our bains in July that they will be forced suddenly of cutsil their discounts, and that money in consequence must be very stringent; this impression is in like manner exagerated, for the excess of these payments in July that they will be forced suddenly of cutsil their discounts, and that money in consequence must be very stringent; this impression is like the disbursements from the National Treasury will be large chough to be already special principle.

Out the state of the payer they are development, and which, having been carried to excess, must occasion beyond question serious losses in certain localities; but this evil is mainly confined to three or four
